

Brandon Hudson

Chief Executive Officer, Jireh Global Partners LLC

Brandon Hudson is the visionary CEO of Jireh Global Partners LLC, a Florida-based company pioneering sustainable infrastructure, renewable energy solutions, and global logistics strategies. With a forward-thinking approach and a commitment to impactful innovation, Brandon leads the firm in delivering clean energy technologies—including solar and hydrokinetic systems—across the U.S. and Sub-Saharan Africa.

Under his leadership, Jireh Global Partners has built a strong network of strategic alliances, including partnerships with engineering firms, financial institutions, and global manufacturers. Brandon is known for aligning technical innovation with economic development, empowering underserved regions through scalable energy access, and structuring high-return investments for stakeholders.

With an emphasis on integrity, community upliftment, and sustainable growth, Brandon continues to drive Jireh Global Partners toward becoming a global leader in clean infrastructure solutions.
