

Dr. Sylvia Litana Ezozo (Hon.)

Dr. Sylvia Litana Ezozo is a distinguished leader, entrepreneur, philanthropist, and community advocate whose lifelong commitment to empowering individuals and fostering global connections has made a profound impact on countless lives. Born and raised in Ndola, Zambia, Dr. Ezozo embodies the spirit of Pan-Africanism and exemplifies excellence, purpose, and service. Her journey from Zambia to becoming an influential global figure is a testament to her resilience, vision, and unwavering dedication to making the world a better place.

Early Life and Education

Dr. Ezozo attended Evelyn Hone College of Applied Arts and Commerce in Zambia, where she graduated with a concentration in Office Management. In 1995, she migrated to the United States and quickly became a trailblazer in her community by co-founding the first Zambian Association in Washington, D.C. Her passion for preserving and promoting Zambian culture has been instrumental in building bridges between the diaspora and the African continent.

Leadership and Community Impact

A visionary leader and role model, Mrs. Ezozo has served as a mentor, coach, and cultural matron to over 300 young women, teaching them about Zambian traditions, marriage readiness, and life skills. Her dedication extends beyond tradition; she has fostered and supported children and school-aged youth in need, providing them with guidance and opportunities to thrive.

As Global Director of Chapter Formation and Community Outreach for the African Diaspora Development Institute (ADDI), Mrs. Ezozo has spearheaded the establishment of 67 chapters worldwide, fostering collaboration and communication among diaspora communities. Her leadership has also facilitated impactful projects connecting the diaspora with Africa, driving economic and cultural integration.

Dr. Ezozo's philanthropic efforts include serving as Chairperson and CEO of The African Diaspora Foundation (ADF), a peace education organization dedicated to eradicating violence through the promotion of nonviolence principles. Under her leadership, ADF has shipped five containers of medical supplies to African countries, supported refugee resettlement programs, and advanced peace education initiatives.

Professional Achievements and Entrepreneurship

Over her 30-year career, Mrs. Ezozo has excelled in corporate America, holding leadership roles in organizational development and human resources for both for-profit and non-profit organizations. Her expertise in harnessing talent and driving organizational success has earned her numerous accolades and positions on prominent boards, including:

- Chairperson – African Diaspora Foundation (ADF)
- President/CEO – Aivlys Solutions USA Inc
- Executive Director – Women Uplifted
- Global Director Chapter Formation (African Diaspora Development Institute-ADDI)
- Co-Chair – African Women for Biden-Harris

As Founder and President of Aivlys Solutions USA Inc, Dr. Ezozo has expanded her entrepreneurial vision to Africa, where Aivlys Solutions USA Inc has partnered with Jireh Global Partners LLC, in strategic partnership with AIVLYS Solutions USA Inc., is proud to announce our joint commitment to delivering reliable, clean energy through cutting-edge solar and hydrokinetic technologies. Together, we are implementing scalable energy systems designed to meet the growing demands of underserved regions while promoting sustainability and energy independence.

Our combined expertise enables us to deploy high-efficiency solar farms and next-generation hydrokinetic generators, creating a resilient energy infrastructure that supports communities, industries, and national development goals.

We are excited to lead the charge in renewable energy innovation—empowering progress, one project at a time.

Aivlys Solutions USA Inc has branches in Zambia, the Democratic Republic of Congo, and Nigeria. Her company focuses on infrastructure development, non-recourse funding, and creating job opportunities, contributing to sustainable development across the continent.

Cultural Advocacy and Media Contributions

Dr. Ezozo's passion for culture and community has led her to collaborate on various initiatives, including the production of the popular U.S.-based TV program Africa Plus, which highlighted African culture and empowered youth in the Washington, D.C., Maryland, and Virginia regions. She has also worked with African embassies to promote cultural exchange programs and has served as a mentor and life coach for women and youth.

Personal Life and Legacy

A devoted wife, mother of four daughters, grandmother to seven, and a proud Woman of God, Dr. Ezozo exemplifies grace, compassion, and purpose. Her marriage to the founder and President of The African Diaspora Foundation in 2021 has further strengthened her commitment to community building and humanitarian efforts. Together, they are advancing initiatives to support education, healthcare, and economic empowerment across Africa.

Recognitions and Aspirations

Dr. Sylvia Litana Ezozo has been bestowed an honorary doctorate degree from American Management University on Leadership and Community Service Development.

Conclusion Dr. Sylvia Litana Ezozo is a beacon of hope, a voice of change, and a champion of progress. Her contributions to society through her leadership, mentorship, and advocacy reflect the highest ideals of service and humanity. An Honorary Degree would not only honor her extraordinary achievements but also inspire future generations to follow in her footsteps.